What Is Ahead In Space Race?

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With the flight of the Molly Brown, the United States gained a little ground on the Russians in the man-in-space race and opened the gates to a flood of astronaut launchings in the years ahead.

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young took the Gemini spacecraft up for a trial run Tuesday. They flew it backward, forward and upside down and executed the first orbital changes ever made by a manned spacecraft.

There were a few minor difficulties. But project officials pronounced the two-seat craft ready to begin operational missions on the next flight. Nine more Gemini flights are scheduled in the next two years.

Grissom and Young were up for a three-orbit spin lasting less than five hours. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration termed it a "truly historic" mission and said it demonstrated the readiness of the craft for future long-duration and rendezvous missions.

In June, astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White are to zoom into space for four days to further evaluate the capsule and to gather medical and scientific data.

McDivitt is to become the first U.S. astronaut to go at least partially out of his orbiting ship. Plans call for him to open his hatch and poke his head into space. However, some thought is being given to having him leave the craft on the end of a tether — just as cosmonaut Alexei Leonov did during a spectacular two-man Soviet shot last week.

After McDivitt and White take their four-day flight, astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. are to make a seven-day flight which should provide valuable data on how man is affected by prolonged exposure to weightlessness.

After that will come the vital rendezvous shot in which a two-man team will attempt to catch up and join with another orbiting satellite. This space docking maneuver must be developed before man ventures to the moon and planets.

Six Gemini rendezvous flights are planned.

Dr. George E. Mueller, NASA associate administrator for manned space flight, said Gemini flights will occur at two-to-three month intervals. He predicted a total of 25 manned space shots from Cape Kennedy in the next four to five years, including the first Apollo manned lunar landings.

He said that following the completion of Gemini, manned space flight emphasis will shift to earth orbit flights of the three-man Apollo moonship. He said these will begin in 1967.

"In 1968," he said, "we expect to begin manned flights of the Saturn 5 — and some time in 1969 we expect to be ready for the historic flight that will take the first Americans to the surface of the moon and back."

Mt. Kennedy Climb Faces Bad Weather

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP) — Clouds, wind and a threat of snow descended on Mt. Kennedy today as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, guided by expert mountaineers, prepared for his assault on the summit of the 13,900-foot peak.

It was not believed the weather would endanger the success of the climb, but did mean the New York Democratic senator might be pinned down at the base camp for a day or more after the descent.

Kennedy has with him what is described as a forlorn black flag. It is believed he will place it at the summit as a memorial to his late brother, President John F. Kennedy, for whom the Canadian government named the mountain.

Kennedy and four other climbers left the 7,500-foot base camp about 9 a.m. Tuesday and were presumed to have spent the night at a second camp, 4,000 feet farther up the mountain.

Monte Alford, a seasoned Whitehorse mountaineer who followed the five climbers part of the way, said Kennedy was experiencing no difficulty on the climb. The senator was tied by a rope to two veterans of the 1963 American assault on Mt. Everest, James W. Whittaker of Seattle, Wash., and Barry Prather of Ellensburg, Wash.

Ohio Astronaut Says Spacemen Not Talky

KOKEE, FAUAI, Hawaii (AP) — Astronaut Neil A. Armstrong, an Ohioan who says he's "ready to go" and anxious to pilot a spacecraft himself, said fellow astronauts Virgil Grissom and John Young "did very little talking" when they passed the Hawaiian islands.

Armstrong, from Wapakoneta, Ohio, was in touch with the Gemini spacecraft for 15 minutes on the second orbit Tuesday as capsule communicator at the Kokee, Kauai, tracking station.

"HELLO GUS" — President Johnson calls by radio-telephone to give Virgil (Gus) Grissom and John W. Young a "well-done" minutes after their safe arrival aboard the aircraft carrier Intrepid. "We are very proud of you," the President told the astronauts and invited them to Washington.

Civil Rights Marchers On Last Leg of Journey

LOWNESBORO, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights marchers move off on the last major leg of the journey to the Alabama Capitol today, their ranks expected to increase as they reach another, wider section of the highway.

The four-lane portion was about an hour's walk away. Two of the lanes were blocked by National Guard troops and equipment, ready to roll.

The distance to be covered during the day was 14 miles. After another overnight stop there would be about six miles to go to the white-domed Capitol at Montgomery, objective of the right-to-vote demonstration.

Thousands began the 50-mile trek at Selma Sunday on a four-lane portion of busy U.S. 80. The number was cut to 300 on the two-lane sections at the order of U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. who directed the march take place.

The 300 spent the night under tents on a soggy knoll near this town in the black belt, a section of rich, black soil.

The sleeping area was covered with freshly cut hay, but much of the field was a quagmire after Tuesday's rains. Dotted the campsite were little mounds of dirt that looked like small graves. On each was a sign with the word "segregation."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the Alabama civil rights drive, left the march to attend a dinner in Cleveland, Ohio, honoring him as the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner. He planned to rejoin the marchers today.

King said he had been asked what would happen when the marchers reached Montgomery and whether Gov. George C. Wallace would see them.

"Gov. Wallace may not be at the Capitol that day," King said. "But he will see the marchers. There is no way he can fail to see thousands and thousands of unarmed, courageous Negroes and whites who are marching to dramatize a tragic evil — a tragic expression of man's inhumanity to man."

The 300 marchers who spent the night near Lowndesboro ate dinner of barbecued chicken or ham, peas and carrots and a candy bar for desert. An evening camp meeting was called off because the ground was too muddy.

Once again National Guardsmen and Army troops activated by President Johnson ringed the camp.

In Montgomery, Police Commissioner L.B. Sullivan appealed to all citizens to go about their business and stay away from the Thursday demonstration at the end of the march.

Poll Tax End Being Urged

Negro Leader Asks Additional Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro leader Roy Wilkins said today the administration's voting bill is a good one, but does not go far enough.

Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, urged a House Judiciary subcommittee to strengthen the bill, and "sweep the last vestiges of voting restrictions into the sea."

The bill would strike down literacy tests and other voter qualifications in six states where there has been a history of widespread discrimination against Negro voters. Federal registrars could then be used to register the Negroes.

Wilkins said the bill should also strike down poll taxes in state and local elections. A recent constitutional amendment eliminated them in federal elections.

He also called for extending the authority for federal examiners to register persons eligible to vote.

Wilkins said another provision should be added to eliminate the requirement that prospective registrants must first appear before a state official and attempt to register before going to the federal examiner. And, finally, he asked that protection against economic and physical intimidation be extended under the bill to all persons trying to register.

7 Children Die As Home Burns

BELCHERTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Seven children died Tuesday night in a fire which swept their farm home.

Mrs. Arthur Berthiaume, who discovered the blaze, roused her husband by breaking a window. They rescued one daughter, Linda.

The dead were tentatively identified as daughters Alice Barbara, Mary Jane, Dona and Susan, a son, Arthur Jr., and an infant. They ranged in age from seven months to 10 years.

The parents and Linda were taken to a hospital for treatment of burns. Officials said Mrs. Berthiaume discovered the fire upon her return from work at a knitting mill in Palmer.

First Degree Murder Count Filed Here Against Keaton

First degree murder charges were filed today in Circleville Municipal Court against Cleo Vernon Keaton, 27, Dayton, by Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

Keaton is charged with the slaying of Maurice L. Francis, 50, Williamsport. The body was found about 1:30 a. m. Tuesday near Williamsport.

The accused slayer is being held in the Pickaway County Jail without bond. A preliminary hearing will be scheduled as soon as possible, according to Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

"As soon as we get in touch with Keaton's attorney, we will set a time for the hearing," Radcliff said today. The sheriff said Keaton has "admitted nothing."

"HE HAS been advised by his attorney not to talk," Radcliff said. "Although he has not admitted the killing, he has not denied it."

Sheriff Radcliff and officials from the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation today continued to process evidence that has been gathered. A ballistics test will be made, the sheriff said.

Keaton had a 22 caliber revolver in his possession when arrested early Tuesday in Jamestown. An autopsy was performed yesterday on the slain man by Pickaway County Coroner Dr. Ray Carroll.

Radcliff said he could not definitely state what caliber weapon Francis was shot with until after the ballistics tests are completed. But he did indicate the slugs were from a small caliber gun.

Keaton was apprehended after er he was discovered sleeping in the back seat of a car he allegedly stole from the dead man.

Francis was found along the Dawson-Yankee Road by Lester Fletcher of Williamsport.

Less than 200 yards away was an automobile which had been stolen from Joan Maynard, an 18-year-old clerk at a Chillicothe shopping center. The car had been wrecked, but was not badly damaged.

Officers Move Fast To Get Custody of Accused Slayer

Cleo Vernon Keaton, suspected of being connected with five slayings, is wanted by Montgomery County and Dayton authorities.

He is now in Pickaway County jail awaiting a preliminary hearing on a charge of first degree murder filed by Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

Although Keaton was thought to be involved in four killings in the Dayton area, Radcliff explained today that the wanted man was released to Pickaway County authorities "because he was arrested on information we put out."

"We connected Keaton with the slaying of Francis almost immediately because of the stolen car which was near the body," Sheriff Radcliff pointed out.

JEAN MAYNARD of Chillicothe, from whom the car was stolen at gun point identified Keaton from a photograph. The information was relayed to law enforcement agencies throughout the state.

The local department immediately surmised that Keaton had stolen the Francis car. Officers here promptly made a description of the vehicle and Keaton available to lawmen throughout the state.

This description led to the apprehension of the alleged slayer in Jamestown where he was spotted by police.

Radcliff prepared a warrant for the arrest of Keaton. The legal document was presented to Green County authorities early yesterday morning.

The sheriff there had been advised by the Green County prosecutor to turn Keaton over to the first department presenting a warrant for his arrest.

Montgomery County authorities plan to question Keaton today at the local jail in the death of Karl Bartee, 38, New Carlisle, and Ruth Sherman, 43, Dayton.

BARTEE was killed instantly by a shot in the head inflicted by an unidentified man who tried to strike up a conversation with him, Mrs. Sherman and Ronald Lodwick, 29, also of New Carlisle. Lodwick was seriously wounded in the shooting spree.

Officials said Keaton has been identified as the bandit who held up a drugstore Mar. 8 and escaped with more than $1,800 in the Dayton area. The store was a block from a wine store where owner Charles E. Sommer, 36, was killed in a holdup Feb. 7.

Keaton is also wanted for questioning in the Jan. 6 hold-up slaying at a Dayton service station. Killed there was Ralph D. Lightcap, 19.

Dog Repellant Liked by Postmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The postman's best friend, a dog repellant, has increased by 40 per cent the likelihood that he will swiftly complete his appointed rounds in one piece.

That's the progress report Asst. Postmaster General Richard J. Murphy recently gave the House Appropriations Committee.

Dogs sank their teeth in to postmen 7,000 times last year, costing them more than $1 million in sick leave and doctor bills, Murphy said. But over the last five months — since the carriers began carrying a repellant which keeps Fido at a distance — disabling dog bites were reduced 40 per cent, Murphy told the committee.

Woman Is Killed Enroute to Wake

RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP) — Muriel Balsan, 64, was struck and killed by an automobile driven by her son-in-law Tuesday as he prepared to take her to a wake for his mother.

Police said Merlin Stone, 48, of Schodack Landing had gone to Mrs. Balsan's home. She was crossing in front of the car, police said, when it accidentally lurched forward.

Booster Club MVP Trophies Awarded Thomas, Starkey

Circleville High School's wrestling and basketball teams were honored last night during the annual Winter Sports Banquet in the 4-H and Grange Building at the fairgrounds.

The fete was climaxed with the presentation of the "Most Valuable Player" awards to John Thomas in basketball and Jim Starkey in wrestling. Jim Snyder, Ohio University's personable and successful basketball coach, delivered the principal speech of the evening.

Booster Club president George Roth made the MVP presentations. For Thomas, it is the second consecutive year he has received the award.

The basketball team virtually rewrote the local record book this season as they battled to a South Central Ohio League championship. Of ten new marks that went in the CHS files, Thomas was responsible for five.

HE SCORED 336 points for an average of 19 per game — both modern day records. Although only 6-foot tall, he cleared 305 rebounds off the boards for an average of 16.9 per game, also a pair of records. And the jumping senior controlled 31 center tips during the season, another top figure for the record books. Other statistics on Thomas show he had 37 assists during VALUABLE ATHLETES — John Thomas (left) and Jim Starkey were presented Circleville Booster Club awards as the "most valuable" members of their respective athletic teams. Thomas, who set five new CHS cage records won the award for the basketball team. Starkey, who placed second in Central District wrestling competition, represented the mat squad.

2 Astronauts Brief Experts

Grissom, Young Detail Experience

ABOARD THE USS INTREPID (AP) — Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young settled down today to prosaic but important business: filling the experts in on what happened during their flight that proved a ship can be maneuvered in space.

Grissom and Young — the first U.S. astronauts to fly as a space team — made three trips around the earth Tuesday.

Each flight provides innumerable valuable clues on how to improve the next performance. Today medical and space officials pumped the astronauts steadily for reactions that will eventually aid in hitting Project Gemini's main target: the landing of a man on the moon.

Everyone, from President Johnson down, seemed to think Tuesday's flight was a powerful success. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and a large contingent of congressmen were at Cape Kennedy to offer congratulations.

Johnson got the astronauts on the telephone shortly after they were picked up and brought to this carrier.

Speaking from the White House, Johnson said he had followed every moment of the flight.

"We're very proud of you," the President said, "and very grateful for your safe return."

"It was a thrilling and wonderful flight," Grissom said.

"It was a wonderful flight," Young told the President. "It

Fourth Day Of Air Raids Handed Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese planes raided North Viet Nam again today. It was the fourth consecutive day of strikes against the Communist north.

U.S. Air Force planes flew support roles on the raid, a U.S. military spokesman said. Presumably he meant they attacked Communist anti-aircraft positions.

There was no immediate word on how many planes were involved, what targets they hit or the results of the raid.

American military authorities said 12 U.S. Air Force B57 jet bombers carried out 20 strikes within South Viet Nam today.

Twelve B57s flew sorties in Phuoc Tuy Province, in the coastal area east of Saigon, and eight B57s were in action in Kontum Province, some 250 miles north of Saigon, spokesmen said.

The spokesmen said they had no information on targets hit or the results of the strikes inside South Viet Nam.

Rugged Modern Living

Illogical as it may seem, the average western steer probably has less chance to survive a really bad blizzard today than his counterparts had back in the rugged 1880s when, according to old-timers, the shortgrass country experienced some of its worst storms.

Today human habitations, barns and shelters are closer together than ever. Today airplanes can skim over snow-bogged ranges and fields and drop hay to marooned livestock.

But the menace to livestock today is a man-made device, known as a fence. Before the rangeland was fenced, cattle sometimes would drift hundreds of miles with a blizzard at their backs and still survive.

By keeping on the move they kept their blood circulating. If they came across ridges where wind had swept the snow from the dry prairie grass, they could nibble enough as they went along to keep in surprisingly good condition.

But when cattle, caught in a blizzard, find their way blocked by a fence, they huddle together. Often snow covers them completely. Often they suffocate. Snow and ice sometimes clog their nostrils with icicles. If they stand still in biting cold for any length of time, they are goners.

The old-time rancher, unless he was a tenderfoot, would stay indoors when a blizzard struck, knowing the cattle could get along better without his help. The modern rancher, however, knowing his cattle are likely to bunch up against a fence, frequently ventures out in the hope of keeping the animals moving and may freeze to death himself for his effort.

The fence is an evidence of development, of advancing civilization, of man-made orderliness — but it is not an un-mixed blessing.

Just What Is Middle Age?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — What is middle age?

According to the dictionary, it is "the period of life between the ages of about 40 and about 60."

Like most dictionary definitions, this one is crass, unimaginative and downright unhelpful. For it clearly implies that, if middle age ends at "about 60," then old age must begin at about 61.

This is rampant nonsense. Call a woman of 61 an old lady, and she'll scratch your freckles out; call a man of 61 an old man, and you'd better duck fast.

The government starts doling out financial lollipops at 65, but does that necessarily mean we're really old? Hardly. Even at 70 an individual hates to admit he's old at last. He may admit he's elderly, but he'd probably rather just say he's "getting on in years."

Age isn't altogether a matter of either the calendar or how you look. Many skinny little babies at two weeks look more antique when they yawn than does a man at 75.

Middle age is determined by your attitude toward life — by how you feel and what you do — as much as it is by the number of your birthdays.

Here are a few signposts that let you know you are middle-aged:

Instead of playing singles at tennis you always play doubles.

Every time the stock market goes up a few points you start figuring how rich you'd be if you'd only bought a few shares back at the end of the second World War.

You've tried all the new wonder drugs and find that none of them work in your case.

When you meet an old fraternity friend from college days and he gives you the secret grip, you forget how to return it.

They don't have winters like they did in the old days, but it does seem to rain more often now.

On Saturday afternoons in spring you'd rather sit in the back yard and watch a bird feed its young than go all the way out to the ball park to see a game.

You mail more get-well cards to friends than greeting cards. Shoes feel heavier than they used to. So do snow shovels. So do you.

If you drop a penny on the sidewalk, you bend over and pick it up. This is a dead giveaway: nobody under middle age — except very small children — bothers to pick up a penny anymore.

Recognize these signs? Then face it, man: You're middle-aged — no matter what the calendar says. So make the best of it.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Big business is getting bigger fast. The traditional American uneasiness about it is showing both at the government and the public levels.

The rush of annual reports show how successful corporations grew last year — both in sales and profits, and also in plants and other assets.

The number of billion-dollar corporations is swelling. Often the measurements of the largest companies in individual industries are changing as fast as those of a growing boy.

A spate of mergers through many industries is accenting the corporate growth. The increased number of inquiries into mergers by government agencies, and antimerger suits in the courts, is seen by many business executives as evidence that government is still very chary of bigness in business.

Mergers aren't the only reason for the latest growth of the big fellows. But prosperity always swells the number of mergers and they're on the rise now. Stock prices near record highs make it easier for companies to marry through exchange of stocks. If it is outright purchase, the jump in profits last year gives corporate management the needed cash.

The business upswing of the last four years also lured many companies into fields they found too tough — and the way out often is merger with the successful competitor — or with a cash-rich outsider looking for diversification.

Here is the merger trend: In 1958 there were around 900; in 1960 just over 1,000; by 1963 prosperity swelled the figure to around 1,500; and last year to 1,800.

The Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission filed 12 court suits in 1963 to block or undo mergers; in 1964 it filed 21; and in the first two months of 1965 filed 6. Investigations of corporate mergers are under way in such industries as oil, chemicals, iron and steel, foods and in banking.

For the consumer the nervousness about big business getting bigger is traditionally the fear that with fewer choices in the market place he'll have to pay higher prices, or be denied products more to his taste, or miss out on new products held up because the old ones are still profitable.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A BRAVE AND brainy lady was Mrs. Robert Taft, wife of the late Ohio senator. Once she dared declare to a big conclave of labor leaders, "Yes, my husband is a conservative. But there is nothing common or average about him. He was first in his class at Yale, and first in his class at the Harvard Law School, and if he weren't a very exceptional man, I never would have the nerve to urge a labor convention to vote for him as your representative in Washington." The audience stood up and cheered!

Believe it or not, there's a water ski school in a second-story loft in midtown Manhattan. Asked how it's possible to teach water skiing without water, the proprietor explains, "I don't use a boat!"

An eskimo sat in his igloo, reading a Shirley Temple Fairy Tale collection to his little boy. "Little Jack Horner sat in a corner," began the father, when the son interrupted him to inquire, "Daddy, what's a corner?"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is it possible to test the speed at which blood flows through the body? What would be the purpose of such a test?

There are many tests to measure the speed of blood circulation. One of these tests is painlessly performed by injecting a weak solution of saccharin into the vein in the arm.

With a stop-watch, the time is measured between the moment the injection and the moment that a sweet taste is noticed in the mouth. The normal speed varies between nine and 16 seconds.

In certain heart and lung conditions, the circulation rate is markedly slower.

The tests are valuable in the study of heart failure and congenital heart defects. They are valuable, too, as a guide to the progress that a patient is making on the road back to health.

Is there any possibility of dangerous complications from an ordinary stomach ulcer?

When the symptoms of peptic ulcers of the stomach are ignored and the condition is neglected, there is always the possibility that the ulcer may become larger, deeper and more difficult to treat.

Hemorrhage and perforation of the stomach wall do occasionally occur as a complication.

It is for this reason that physicians do not consider any ulcer as being "ordinary". All ulcers deserve a strict diet and drugs given under the supervision of a physician.

Faithful adherence to the doctor's instructions is the best way to reduce the risk of complications from ulcers, or any other condition.

What causes cavities in teeth?

The formation of cavities and tooth decay (dental caries) can have a variety of causes. All dentists and scientists who are studying the problem agree that nutritional deficiencies and poor hygiene are the most common causes.

Many dentists insist that excessive sugar in the diet is harmful. But even this opinion is not accepted by everyone.

There are many general body conditions that reflect themselves in the condition of the gums and the teeth. Vitamin deficiencies (particularly vitamins A, C and D) and mineral deficiencies (especially calcium and phosphorus), bacterial infection and abnormal changes in the bite may be factors in producing decay.

Why is a fluid diet usually prescribed when a patient has fever?

During infections with fever, a great deal of fluid is lost by evaporation when the body perspires. It is important that this fluid be replaced. Fluids containing sugar are an easy way of providing nourishment when patients with fever have no appetite for solid food.

Communists Faltering?

By John Chamberlain

Putting together the pieces of the Moscow puzzle, one is tempted to make the flat prediction that Brezhnev and Kosygin will be gone before the next Soviet wheat harvest is completed.

The reasoning that impels one to say this is as follows:

Neither one of the ruling dumvirate has given the least bit of evidence that he has the political charisma necessary to convince the world that he is in control of events. The main reason for ditching Khrushchev, who was at least a first-rate actor, was that he threatened to split the Communist movement by the quarrel with Red China. What followed the Khrushchev dismissal was a long period in which Kosygin, in particular, did everything he could to get Peking to accept an olive branch. Criticism of Red China disappeared from Pravda. The Soviets began to outdo the Red Chinese with promises of support for North Vietnam; both on his visit to Hanoi and on his stopover in Peking, Kosygin indicated a willingness to help all eastern Communists. The recent conference of Communist parties in Moscow, far from being a "slap Red China" affair, ended on a note that might have been accepted as propitiatory by Peking. And when the U.S. began to bomb North Vietnam bases, the staged attacks on the American Embassy in Moscow could only be construed as a Soviet effort to keep pace with Mao Tse-tung's own denunciations of Lyndon Johnson's new policy.

Having gone as far as prudence dictated toward meeting Red Chinese demands, Kosygin has been made to look extremely foolish by Mao Tse-tung's savage allegations that he has merely been pursuing "Khrushchevism without Khrushchev". But instead of pointing out that Red China itself has made no effective response on its own to the sudden show of American firmness in Southeast Asia, Kosygin has let Mao Tse-tung get away with the bluff that the Chinese Communists are fire-breathing activists where their Soviet counterparts are fakers. The truth of the matter is that Mao has not dared to provoke an atomic struggle any more than Kosygin has dared to provoke it. Lyndon Johnson's show of force in Southeast Asia, which is nextdoor to Red China itself, has been just as successful as General Lucius Clay's intransigence in Berlin. o. John F. Kennedy's decision to face Khrushchev down in the eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation over Cuba.

Kosygin may have refrained from throwing the "cowardice" charge back in Mao Tse-tung's teeth for fear of exacerbating a dangerous intra-Communist game of chicken. But this cautionary approach does not paint an image of a man in command of events. Similarly, the inability of the Soviet police to keep Chinese exchange students from going beyond prescribed bounds in a demonstration before the U.S. Embassy indicates that something has gone wrong with Russian internal security. Attacks on the U.S. Embassy are supposed to be limited to ink-spattering and window-breaking, but the Chinese students carried knives es and daggers which they used on the police.

The sudden emergence of Nikita Khrushchev at the polling booth is further evidence that Kosygin and Brezhnev are not sure of themselves. Khrushchev had become the incarnation of a desire for peace and more "goulash". He could only have been trotted forth, in the company of two security officers, as a reminder to Mao Tse-tung that foreign policy can change and as a token suggestion to the East European satellite nations that Moscow still believes in the importance of goulash for everybody. But when a dumvirate feels it is necessary to exploit the symbolism of the man that has just been overthrown, it is a sure sign that it has little magic of its own.

Regardless of the future of Kosygin and Brezhnev, it is now evident that Lyndon Johnson, by his strong Southeast Asian policy, has called the bluff of both the Soviet and the Red Chinese Communists. If Mao hasn't dared to take us on in Formosa Strait, it is hardly likely that he would provoke us into bombing him from the Gulf of Tonkin. Let's hope that Lyndon realizes the extent of the victory that is within his grasp. He is now doing what Douglas MacArthur was not allowed to do, and is getting away with it.

Astronauts' Wives Relax After Successful Shot

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — After it was over everything was different.
Betty Grissom blushed and smiled triumphantly.
Barbara Young's tight, infectious grin lighted her pretty face.

Amelia School May Close in Another Year

AMELIA, Ohio (AP) — Pupils in the West Clermont school district public schools ca nlook forward to another year of classroom austerity and after that, who knows?

Maurice Lenz, executive head of the district whose voters have turned down three operating levies, said Tuesday the schools may have to close after the end of the 1965-66 school year.

The board of education this week approved a program including even fewer "frills" than the one under which West Clermont schools have been operating since January.

Under the present program, high school students get to classes on their own and others walk up to half a mile to bus stops. Under the new program, there will be no kindergarten, only emergency maintenance to school buildings and no educational television.

Even so, the money saved through these measures will not be enough to keep the schools open, board members said. Lenz said that even with the reduced expenses, the district can expect to accumulate $200,000 more debt from now through December, 1966.

The last levy submitted to voters was for 5.5 mills on March 2. It was turned down. The levy can be submitted to voters again next November and early in 1966. If it fails to pass on these occasions, the board said it would be "totally unrealistic" to expect teachers to sign contracts for the 1966-67 school year.

In the 1964 fiscal year, the U. S. Mint used 114 million ounces of silver. Yet the U. S. produces only 40 million ounces a year. The U. S. treasury's entire supply of silver is 1,350,000,000 ounces.

The day began gloomily, with an iron gray overcast and mist drifting through the beams of television floodlights in front of their homes.

Now the sun shone hotly after Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young were safely recovered from the Atlantic.

Spidery white clouds rode a fast breeze across the tops of tall pines in front of the Grissom home.

"I think it's been a great day," Mrs. Grissom told a score of newsmen.

Several of the wives of her Timber Cove neighborhood stood bunched across the street, dressed mainly in capris and shirt blouses.

Mrs. Grissom wore a simple, green dress. She said she didn't paste trading stamps as she had planned.

"I was too busy watching television," she laughed.

She wasn't as anxious at lift-off this time, she said, as on the 1961 sub-orbital flight by her husband.

But she held her breath on the return of his Gemini spacecraft Tuesday.

"I was waiting for the flotation ring to be placed around the capsule," she said.

Sons Scott, 14, and Mark, 11, stood beside her. Scott, revealing the braces on his teeth, put his worry more succinctly: "I was just hoping it was floating."

Would Mrs. Grissom like to see her husband participate in another flight?

"Not any way soon," she replied.

The same question was put to Mrs. Young at her news conference in neighboring El Lago. It brought this response: "Heavens, yes. I'd like to take part again and I know John is ready to start training."

With her were daughter Sandra, 7, and son John Jr., 6. John, still bearing telltale dots from a recent bout with chicken pox, had to go back indoors after a brief appearance.

Both families watched three television sets, one for each of the networks.

Both families drove to the Manned Spacecraft Center, 28 miles southeast of Houston, to monitor the second orbit.

America's first orbiting astronaut, John H. Glenn Jr., was there. He explained some of the mysteries of space flight to the children.

Both families were scheduled to fly to Cape Kennedy today.

Firestone Reinstates Dismissed Tirebuilders

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. reinstated Tuesday two tirebuilders whose dismissals touched off a four-day wildcat strike last week at plants 1 and 2. Nearly 4,000 workers walked out in a demonstration of sympathy after the two were dismissed.

The company and United Rubber Workers local 7 agreed that one of the men, Joseph Daniel, would receive a 30-day suspension, and the other, Dominic Leonimo, would be given a 14-day suspension. The men, both union committeemen, allegedly shoved a supervisor.

Grand Alliance in Race Campaign Is King's Goal

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., taking a break from the Selma - to-Montgomery, Ala., voting rights march, called Tuesday night for "a grand alliance of white persons and Negroes" to battle racial discrimination in this country.

He urged an alliance of religious and industrial leaders and others to "develop massive action programs . . . to get rid of the last vestiges of segregation and discrimination."

King, described by an aide as having badly blistered feet from marching 23 miles in two days, spoke at a dinner honoring him as the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner, then headed back to Alabama to join the march to Montgomery. Accompanying him on the return trip were two persons active in promoting the civic dinner in his honor—the Rev. O. M. Hoover, pastor of Olivet Institutional Baptist Church here, and city Councilman John W. Kellogg.

At a news conference preceding the dinner, King said he did not mind taking time off from the Alabama march because funds were needed to support the march and other civil rights activities. The Alabama march he said, is costing about $50,000.

The overflow crowd of more than 2,200 persons paid $10 or $25 a plate for the dinner at the Cleveland - Sheraton Hotel. The proceeds went to Dr. King's Southern Christian Leadership movement.

Dr. King, who received a standing ovation as he entered the ballroom, called for a letters-to - Congress campaign in support of President Johnson's voting rights bill. He said he has "faith in America, but I feel we have a season of suffering ahead." Some persons, he added, "may have to face physical death and get scarred up before victory is won, but we shall overcome."

Police arrested a demonstrator on the ninth floor when Dr. King was being taken to his hotel room. The man, Edward A. Spelic, 48, who said he was a member of the National Association for the Advancement of White People, was held for making "oral threats."

He was waving Confederate and American flags when police guard converged on him.

Other officers elected were Stephen A. Kauffman, Cleveland, vice president; Nicholas G. Kaschak, Steubenville, secretary, and Morris E. Allton, Columbus, treasurer.

Proper Care
For Window
Shade Rollers

By ELEANOR ROSS

The simple, everyday window shade roller is really quite a remarkable mechanism. Even in this age of technological wonders, no one has been able to improve much on the original patent that was taken out back in 1864.

Properly handled, a shade roller has an extremely long life.

Ingeniously constructed, it has very few moving parts to break down, and it takes but little adjustment to snap these back into working order.

Nevertheless, a few do's and don'ts about their care should insure the rollers giving longer and better service.

A too-tight spring is easily regulated. Roll the shade up to the top, remove it from its brackets and unroll not more than two revolutions of cloth, then replace it and roll up again. Repeat this until the spring has regained its proper tension. (Do not, in any case, unroll half-way at one time. Ninety per cent of the rollers extant today will not raise the shade all the way if unrolled too much this way.)

A too-loose spring is just as easily regulated. A shade that refuses to roll up all the way lacks zing and requires the reverse treatment.

First be sure that the brackets are not rubbing against the ends of the roller; check that they have not been bent and are properly installed.

If neither of these is the case, pull the shade part way down, remove it from the brackets and roll not more than two revolutions of cloth onto the roller before replacing it in the brackets.

Repeat this until the shade responds promptly to your lightest touch. (Never roll the shade "half way up by hand.") This makes most shade rollers completely uncooperative and, in fact, may permanently damage many of them.)

The shade that doesn't catch and hold can be easily fixed.

To cope with this, check to make sure the brackets are properly installed and that the roller has sufficient play not to rub against them.

Next be sure that the flat projection of the roller mechanism is vertical in the slot hole of the bracket.

If these measures have not corrected the trouble, follow the directions for fixing the too-tight spring. If this doesn't work either, return the roller to the dealer from whom you bought it and insist on a new one if the shade is a relatively recent purchase.

Never oil the mechanism of any shade roller and never take the cap off the mechanism end. Either will put it out of commission 99 per cent of the time.

If a shade falls out of its brackets, check that they have not loosened. If they have, you can replace the nails with sturdier screws.

If the brackets have been screwed into plaster and have worked loose, get screw anchors with matching screws in any hardware department.

If installed properly, they ought to do the trick in securing the brackets for good.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Test of Maturity Given

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been arguing for six months over how old a girl should be to go out with boys alone at night. The girl is 14 and I say she's boy-crazy, but her mother says she is normal. Any help you can give me along this line will be appreciated. Thank you.

FATHER

DEAR FATHER: If the girl makes good grades in school and is mature in her behavior, there is no reason why she shouldn't date on week ends. By "mature" I mean:

1. Can she be trusted to respect a curfew when one is set for her?
2. Does she keep her room tidy (and do any other tasks her mother assigns to her) without having to be nagged?
3. Is she a respectful and honest child? Or does she talk back and do things on the sly?

If she can pass the above requirements, I'd say she is mature enough to date.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who is in the service overseas, sent us a beautiful diamond engagement and wedding ring set and asked us please to give the engagement ring to his girl, and to hold the wedding ring until he gets home next fall. My husband and friends think that we should keep both the rings, wait until our son returns from overseas and let him give the girl the rings himself. I don't know what we should do in a case like this and would very much appreciate your advice.

MIDWEST MOM

DEAR MOM: Follow your son's instructions and give his girl the engagement ring. Of course, she'll miss the kiss that usually goes with it. But I am sure she'd rather have a kissless engagement than none at all.

Underground Test Mocks High Altitude

WASHINGTON (AP) — Far beneath the Nevada desert, the United States has developed means of simulating the altitude conditions a nuclear-tipped missile would encounter if detonated at nearly 100 miles above the earth.

This was learned today in an interview with Brig. Gen. Delmar L. Crowson, director of the Atomic Energy Commission's Division of Military Application.

All indications are that such a manmade creation — deep within the earth — of the vacuum at the fringes of outer space is designed to:

- Help further improve America's defenses against enemy missiles.
- Enhance the power of U.S. missiles to penetrate an enemy's electronic and other defenses.

Crowson said further that deep drilling techniques developed for underground nuclear tests at Nevada and elsewhere have a rich potential pay-off for peacetime industry, especially the oil and construction industries.

The general discussed the novel nuclear weapons testing technique in amplifying somewhat the AEC's recent disclosures that "significant progress" has been made in improving America's nuclear defensive and offensive capabilities through underground testing. The limited test-ban treaty excludes all but underground testing.

The AEC recently reported to Congress:

- Development and deployment of new, more powerful and versatile nuclear bombs and long-range missiles.
- Significant progress toward further increasing the "hardness and penetration capability" of the missile airheads — that is their powers to penetrate enemy defenses and to withstand countermeasures.
- Further advances in the art of developing relatively "clean" weapons — that is, those having less radioactive fallout.
- New progress toward improving capabilities for detecting underground tests by other nations.

Crowson said one of the major techniques developed for underground testing is the carving out of huge subterranean rooms, with tunnels radiating from them, much like spokes of a wheel. These rooms range up to 900 cubic yards in size.

Nearly all air can be pumped out of large-diameter pipes in the rooms to create vacuum conditions. Weapons devices can be detonated under conditions simulating an altitude of up to 400,000 or 500,000 feet, the general said.

New Governmental Unit Plan Revived by Solons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An eight-year-old proposal that has cleared two legislatures but never found its way into Ohio lawbooks is over the first hurdle in a new legislative journey.

The Ohio Senate approved 23-9 Tuesday a resolution which would permit establishment of new governmental units to serve the Buckeye State's fast-growing urban populations.

The proposal would permit counties, municipalities, and townships to combine to provide fire, police, and water services in areas that would include at least one city of 50,000 or more population.

Gas and electric services were excluded from the measure by bipartisan sponsors who asserted private utilities already are providing adequate service.

This provision triggered much debate, with Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Mahoning, seeking in an amendment to permit the proposed new governments to provide gas service. Carney sharply attacked the East Ohio Gas Co., which he said has "failed miserably" to offer service "at reasonable rates for citizens of Northeastern Ohio."

He also was critical of the Public Utilities Commission, which he said in the past "has granted every rate increase request that has come before it."

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Vietnamese war, shoved out of much of the American mind by space shots and civil rights excitement, will be back, uglier and perhaps bigger.

This country intensified the war against the Communists to make them back up and seek a truce. They haven't backed up, they haven't sought a truce, and they're fighting harder.

Six weeks ago, after they attacked an American air base in South Viet Nam, the United States stepped up the conflict

Dems Prepare For 1968 Poll

LBJ on All 50 Ballots Is Goal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are maneuvering to get President Johnson's name on the ballot in all 50 states and to bar any white-only delegations from their 1968 convention.

The objective, as National Chairman John M. Bailey explained it, is to come up with a firm set of qualifications that must be met by every state party organization in picking electors.

"We want to give them all plenty of advance notice of what the rules are so that they will be prepared to comply with them," Bailey said.

The national party couldn't get Johnson's name on the ballot in Alabama last year because state laws permitted the choice of non-pledged electors.

Mississippi sent a solid white delegation to the Atlantic City, N.J., convention. Johnson himself had to take a hand, through personal representatives, in ironing out the controversy when the Negro-dominated Mississippi Freedom Democratic party challenged the seating of the regulars.

This was attended by picketing of the convention, disturbances on the floor and walkouts which were politically painful to the President.

Former Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, who headed the convention platform committee, announced he was appointing a task force of experts to study the effect of state statutes and party rules in all of the states on the matter of loyalty and discrimination.

Bailey said that in cases where state laws permit either discrimination among voters or allow the choice of unpledged electors, the local party organization will be asked to petition the legislature to change them.

OU Engineering Team Successfully Tracks Gemini

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio University electrical engineering team successfully tracked the liftoff and overhead flight of the Gemini capsule.

The Ohio U. Team, working from its Radar Hill installation, tracked Gemini on a frequency band of almost 300 megacycles. This is a frequency which approximates that of a commercial television band.

A spokesman here said the tracking mission demonstrated the university team's capabilities as a communication facility for future space flights.

He said the team received all sound communications from the two astronauts indicating the capability of performing two-way communication if necessary.

Logan Goodyear Plant Announces Expansion

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. announced Tuesday a $400,000 expansion and improvement program for its 15-month-old plant here.

Plant Manager Nathan H. Hurt said the expansion was expected to get under way within a few weeks and would add at least 60 employees to the payroll. Goodyear now employs 310 at its plant here, which produces padded dashboards and other padded trim for automobiles.

with a bombing raid on North Viet Nam.

"We want no wider war," President Johnson said, although the bombing widened it. The bombing raids continued until now they are almost commonplace but the Communists show no signs of yielding. On the contrary.

This week Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, said the Red guerrillas there are beginning an all-out drive for victory. "Now one senses we may be arriving at a decisive point," he said. He said more.

He startled and worried this country's British ally, even though it had approved the stepped-up U.S. efforts, when he said there are no limits on how much the war may be intensified.

And then he indicated this country may have changed its mind if it thought bombing raids could make the Communists see the light. Now he says the United States may get into the ground fighting in South Viet Nam.

The irony in the American effort to save the South Vietnamese from being overwhelmed is that they have far more than enough men to do their own fighting, if they had the will and the training. Taylor acknowledged this obliquely.

He said sufficient military, paramilitary and police manpower must be trained to outman the Red guerrillas. Yet, this war has been going on for years and through the administrations of three presidents.

Thinking of where all this may be heading, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson said Tuesday he wants an explanation of Taylor's statement that there are no limits on how much the war may be stepped up.

This came on top of news from Saigon that the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces are experimenting with nonlethal gas warfare against the Reds.

From Saigon The Associated Press reported the nature of the gases is classified information but they are believed to be a mixture that includes the universal riot-control weapon, tear gas.

But The AP also said one gas reportedly causes nausea and vomiting. The British are skeptical. Wilson said Britain is raising questions about the use of napalm and nonlethal gas.

Lord Kenet said American statements on the gas were contradictory. If it causes nausea, he said, it was "not a type of police gas."

Here Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said such gases were used by the British in Cyprus in 1955, have been used at the Berlin wall, by American police during racial rioting, and by Panama police.

Meanwhile, the White House said Johnson had not been consulted before what was reported as riot-control gas had been used in Viet Nam.

But Michel Stewart, British foreign secretary, said in Washington that he had expressed to Secretary of State Dean Rusk "the very grave concern" felt in Britain and other countries about the use of noxious gas.

"I am, in fact," he said, "asking the United States to display what your Declaration of Independence calls a decent respect for the opinion of mankind."

In Moscow Soviet leaders hinted at the use of force on the side of North Viet Nam. Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev said Soviet citizens had been volunteering for service there.

After all this there is the troubling question: If the bombing raids have not forced North Viet Nam to back up, then what next and how far?

"All I said was:
Show me a filter that delivers the taste and I'll eat my hat."

(Editor's Note)—A short beer in Arizona.
Her own private coal mine — in the basement.
Boats in the bank.
All are a part of the American scene.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — It'll be easier now for Arizonans to have a short beer at home.
Gov. Sam Goddard has signed into law a bill to permit the sale of beer in cans smaller than eight ounces. Previously it was illegal for package liquor stores to sell smaller cans, although the short can of beer could be purchased in some bars.

SHAWNEE, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. William Leaver, 71, has her own private coal mine in her basement.
At the rate Mrs. Leaver uses her coal, it will last 1,000 years. Current estimates are she has 10,000 tons still to be mined in her basement.
The mine was discovered by Mrs. Leaver's husband in 1917 and has been going strong since.
It is one of the few in this Appalachian country of Ohio which is still producing coal.
Three or four times a year, a son, Delbert, 46, of Columbus, comes to this hilly town "to dig enough to fill the coal bin" for his mother.
Mrs. Leaver's mine goes 150 feet from the basement under a steep hill. The shaft is 10 feet wide and 14 feet high.
ST. LOUIS (AP)—It took Harold Stiers 40 years to acquire his $2-million collection of model boats. Now he's had to put them in a bank vault where he can't enjoy them.
The boats, made of jade, ivory and silver, were the objects of one of the most quixotic burglaries in the memory of St. Louis police.
Eighty-two of the 200 models were stolen from Stiers' mansion last October. After a comedy of errors by the burglars, the models were found in the trunk of the St. Louis district attorney's car.
One man, Wyvone Hornburg, St. Louis, has been charged with the theft and detective Sgt. Ernest Alexander says more may be arrested.
Alexander said a New York man hired a ring of 12 St. Louis thieves to grab the boats. The crooks got them to Chicago, then the New Yorker decided he didn't want them, the officer said.
The burglars, left holding the bag, negotiated with police and the district attorney, then the district attorney found the boats in his car.

Some of the models date back to the Ming dynasty in China. Stiers, 64, collected them from all over the world.

Hutton Back In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I'm just starting to live again," Betty Hutton said with utter seriousness. "And I'm going to make this town take notice."

For a pair of decades the figure of Betty Hutton has been equated with energy and action; no star generated more motion than the rowdy-voiced blonde from Battle Creek, Mich. So it was surprising to learn that until recently she lacked the nerve to perform.

The change in her life came four years ago when she starred in a television series, "Goldie." She recalls it as such a nightmare of interference and betrayal that even today she cannot discuss it without evidencing pain.

"When it was all over, I had dropped $300,000 of my own money and had fallen from 125 pounds to 90," she said. "But most of all, I had lost my faith in other people and in my own ability."

Betty without that vast reservoir of self-confidence is difficult to envision. She displayed it as she breezed into the Brown Derby for lunch, bristling with plans for the future. But she admitted that the road back wasn't easy.

First she needed to gain back her physical strength, and then weight returned slowly. Then she needed to regain her spirit, and she gave much of the credit to her husband, musician Pete Candoli.

OEA To Investigate Schools in Ashtabula

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio Education Association commission headed by Paul H. Spayde, assistant superintendent of Lakewood schools, will investigate conditions in the Ashtabula city school district.

Five consecutive money issues have been rejected by the district's voters, and the present superintendent, Oscar Musgrave, and his predecessor, both chosen not to renew their contracts.

Lorain Policemen Cleared by Jury In 'Beating' Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two Lorain policemen were acquitted Tuesday on charges of beating 19-year-old Angelo Morales.

A federal court jury of seven women and five men returned its verdict after deliberating this morning for a half hour. The jurors got the case late Monday, went behind closed doors for an hour and a half, then recessed for the night.

The accused, Sgt. Richard L. Griffith and Patrolman John F. Kochan, smiled when they heard the jury's decision. The eyes of both filled with tears.

The policemen were accused of beating Morales to admit use and possession of narcotics. The case was under federal jurisdiction because the government contended the policemen violate Morales' civil rights.

Real Estate Men Oppose 'Fair Housing'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — be subject to harassment and Ohio real estate and builders' associations bore down heavily Tuesday on the economic aspects of two fair housing bills in hearings before the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee, and predicted that, if a bill is adopted, home building in the state would fall off markedly.

Speakers who repeatedly dubbed the measure "forced housing bills—not fair housing bills" also forecast that brokers would be completely at the mercy of their customers.

Safreed cited a 160-unit apartment complex at Newark, which he said had a 93 per cent occupancy when the owner began renting "a few apartments to Negroes."

"Six months later, he had a 60 per cent occupancy."

Circleville PTA Meet Set Tomorrow

The Circleville PTA executive committee will hold its annual meeting 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in room 103 of Circleville High School.

This meeting is open to all PTA members.

Westfall Holds First NHS Event

The first National Honor Society Tapping Service was conducted yesterday in the new Westfall High School Auditorium.

Extensive use was made of the excellent stage lighting facilities to produce a unique and interesting program. Following the tapping ceremony, a reception was held in the auditorium for parents of newly initiated members, current members and the high school faculty.

The National Honor Society was originated in 1919 by the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals to promote the four virtues of life: character, scholarship, leadership and service. Eligible students are selected for tapping by a faculty committee on the basis of those four merits.

The tapping service was conducted by senior members and was opened with the invocation by David Schein. After a musical number by the Westfall High School chorus, Sue Perkins secretarial-treasurer, delivered a reading, "The Master's Touch."

DIANE THOMAS, president, presented a brief history of the National Honor Society. "The Spirit of the Torch" was represented by Jo Anne Seibel.

Gary Sharpe gave a definition of character; Joyce Davis explained the quality of scholarship; Linda Minor described the values of leadership; and Cindy Vincent presented the worth of service.

Ruth Lewis and other members went into the audience, tapped the initiates, and led them onto the stage where they received the pledge administered by the president.

New members tapped were Carolyn Bailey, Richard Cook,

Tom Hamman, Gary Liff, Joyce Long, Ray Mowery, Dixie Neff, Marsha Reynolds, Steve Steinhauser, Linda Stubbs, and Vicki Sykes.

On April 2 the new members will be banqueted and initiated into the Pickaway County Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Carl Hawks, of Carl Hawks Sound Center, 559 E. Mound St., has announced the winners of door prize awarded during the celebration of his grand opening last week.

Winner of a tape recorder was Jim Craycraft, 453 Brown St., and Linda Hatfield, 410 Ray Ave., was the winner of a radio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Tipton, 603 N. Court St., have returned home after attending the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co. leaders' sales convention in New Orleans, La.

The convention was held at the Royal Orleans Hotel. Tipton is staff manager of the Circleville area.

Local agents attending the sessions were Frank Jenkins and Vinton Dorsey.

Vietnamese Gas Is Old Stuff to Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — The non-lethal gas used in South Viet Nam is a compound of chemical agents of a type the Army has employed for about 40 years, defense officials said today.

In one form or another, the tear gas has been sniffed by millions of American soldiers in the course of gas-mask drills, officials said.

It is unrelated to the dreaded and highly secret nerve gases and incapacitating agents which this country has developed and stockpiled.

Officials said similar tear gases, which bring on nausea and vomiting and disable temporarily, have been used by police departments and are available commercially.

It was reported that compounds similar to those used in South Viet Nam against the Communists have been brought into play in connection with racial disturbances in the United States.

The State Department said Monday that South Vietnamese forces have used tear gas where Communist guerrillas had mingled with Vietnamese villagers. The Pentagon had said the gas was supplied by the United States.

"In such a situation, rather than use artillery, air or other fire-power methods, Vietnamese forces have used these types of tear gases," said State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey.

McCloskey called this a humane use of gas and said it is "not contrary to international law and practice."

McCloskey and defense officials contended that similar types of tear gas had been used in controlling riots all over the world. Defense sources said the French had left sizable stocks in Viet Nam when they pulled out. The nonkilling compound used in South Viet Nam — only twice, officials said — is called CN-DM.

Both are described in the non-secret Army Manual on Chemical-Biological-Radiological Warfare.

CN stands for chloroacetophene none, DM for Adamssite.

The Army manual says that CN "is a quick-acting solid that, when disseminated as an aerosol, causes an intense flow of tears and irritates the eyes, skin, and upper respiratory passages."

It says that DM "is a solid that, when disseminated as an aerosol, causes violent sneezing, nausea, and vomiting."

The manual says that DM "may be mixed with a quick-acting irritant such as CN in munitions to obtain combined effects."

Officials said these agents have effects lasting from a few minutes to two to three hours but cause no lasting damage.

According to Pentagon officials, tear gas was used in late December and in another operation deep in the Mekong delta area Jan. 28. Results were not very good, they said.

'Lolita' Plus 5 Years Looks 'Absolutely Trim'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — She seems absolutely prim. When she speaks it is often of the joys of serious acting or the intricacies of Oriental philosophy.

This is Sue Lyon, "Lolita" plus five years. She looks and sounds greatly changed from the nymphlet she played in her initial film. In truth, she seems different from the teen-age temptress she enacted in "Night of the Iguana."

The alterations are not entirely external. The physical aspects are the result of her role as mission schoolteacher in Manchuria for the multistar "Seven Women." The other changes may be the result of a year in which she was married and divorced from actor Hampton Fancher III.

"It has been a difficult year," she commented reflectively. "The worst part of it was losing my brother; that was the most tragic thing that has happened in my life."

"But in other ways it has been a wonderful year. I have grown and learned a great deal."

She evidenced no bitterness about her brief tenure as Mrs. Hampton Fancher III. In fact to refurbish an old Hollywood cliché, they are still friends.

"I always remain friends with those I have been in love with," she reasoned. "I think that before there can be love, you must admire and respect a person. After love has gone, you can still maintain your friendship. It's foolish not to."

In "Seven Women," Sue finds herself amid the powerhouse company of Anne Bancroft, Margaret Leighton, Flora Robson, Betty Field, Mildred Dunnock and Anna Lee. She is understandably awed in the presence of such talent and determined to keep up with them.

One of her ways of understanding the nature of the film is to study a heavy tome on Chinese philosophy. "I can only read a little bit at a time and then I get lost," she admitted. "At this rate it may take me five years to finish it, but I'm determined."

That's the nature of Sue Lyon at 19: determination. For a couple of years she has been studying with a dramatic coach, and the experience has infused her with a will to succeed.

Development Progress Good

Appalachia Chiefs Tell Ohio's Goals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio development officials report "good progress" is being made in planning projects that could be started this year as part of the $1.1 billion federal Appalachia Program.

Development Director Fred Neuschwander told the Associated Press that initial planning for several projects has been completed and work is continuing on several others. In all, the projects are expected to cost $144 million in federal and matching funds.

"We want to be in a position so that when funds become available we can go ahead and go," Neuschwander said.

Termed "quick start" projects these are undertakings which will be ready to go as soon as applications are approved and funds are made available.

Pul Baldridge, operations coordinator in the Development Department, said the "quick start" projects are not selected on a "first come, first served" basis, but simply are those which can be ready to be started first.

Baldridge said engineers still are working on plans for locating the proposed east-west Appalachia Way highway, which could eventually open 28 southeastern Ohio counties to industrial, recreational and other development.

Baldridge said "quick start" project applications ready to be submitted in the Appalachian program include:

Construction of television transmitting towers at Newark and Portsmouth to beam educational programs from Ohio State University and Ohio University to the southeastern counties.

Creation of vocational education centers for high school youngsters and post high school adults.

Reclamation of 8,000 acres of state-owned strip mined land in Harrison, Jefferson and Perry counties.

Construction of a regional mental health clinic at Zanesville.

Stuart-Bennett Trade May Be Haunting Bosox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Dick Stuart, whose long-distance home runs are exceeded only by the enormity of his immodesty, was talking about the winter trade that sent him from Boston to Philadelphia for pitcher Dennis Bennett.

"Wouldn't it be something if Bennett came up with a sore arm this season?" asked Stuart, who feels Boston didn't receive enough in exchange for him. "Do you think the Red Sox brass would get jumped on a little?"

The Red Sox brass might be pondering that very thought today following Bennett's departure from an exhibition baseball game with a sore left shoulder.

The painful exit came during the fourth inning Tuesday, just after the Los Angeles Angels scored the run that eventually gave them a 1-0 victory.

After allowing only one hit in 1-3 innings, Bennett was rocked for a double by Jim Fregosi and a triple by Lou Clinton. The southpaw threw three balls to Costen Shockley, then signaled Manager Billy Herman to the mound.

"My arm hurt like a toothache from the time I started warming up," Bennett explained afterward. "I was gradually losing my my stuff so I felt why force it?"

The situation, though, could have Boston officials worrying about the value of the 25-year-old hurler, who was plagued with arm trouble last season and finished with a 12-14 record for the Phillies.

Stuart, incidentally, singled across the winning run in the ninth inning Tuesday night in

Kingston Cagers Honored at Fete

The Kingston High School basketball team was honored Monday night in the final athletic banquet at the school.

Mike Search, a team stalwart, was named the most valuable player. He also received a trophy for the top foul shooting effort and one for top rebounding play.

Richard DeLong earned the coveted scholastic award at the school. Ohio University's Jim Snyder was guest speaker.

Kingston High School will be consolidated with Centralia next season.

Siebert, Rookie Shine for Tribe

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The pitcher most likely to hurl the Cleveland Indians' opener had a good day Tuesday. The pitcher least likely to start had a great day.

Sonny Siebert is the best bet for the Tribe's first game. He pitched six innings as the Indians beat the Los Angeles Angels 10-3. Siebert gave up two runs on three hits in the first inning, including a homer to Dick Simpson. But he allowed only two singles the rest of the way.

Rookie Jim Rittwage, a 6-foot-3 righthander from Bedford, Ohio, who just a year ago was a senior at Bedford High, worked only one inning. He used ten pitches to strike out the side.

Oldest trotting driver at the Pompano Beach, Fla., track this winter is Dave Legum, 52, Youngest is Warren Cameron at 24.

AA All-Ohio Team Sports 2 Repeaters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Roger Markle of Newark and Larry Hisle of Portsmouth repeated today as members of the Associated Press Class AA all-Ohio high school basketball team.

Markle, a 6-foot-4 senior, averaged 23.5 points for the year, and Hisle, a 6-2 senior, had a 25.3 mark—but neither made it to the state tournament.

Dick Haucke, Cincinnati LaSalle's 6-6 senior who averaged 28.6, was named captain of the big school squad, picked from the some 9,000 boys on the 412 teams. Haucke, who averaged 22.7, 26.2 and 28.6 in his three varsity campaigns, moved up from last year's third team. Bill Hann of Cleveland Rhodes, a second-team choice in 1964, climbed to the first team as the 6-2 senior came up with a 23-point average.

Rounding out the first team were Dave McClellan of Toledo DeVilbiss, 6-5 senior with a 23.5 mark; Harry Reynolds of Steubenville's Big Red, 6-1 senior with a 24-point average, and Jeff Miller of Lima Shawnee, a 6-5 senior who paced the unbeaten Indians to the state tournament with a 21.9 average.

In addition to Miller of Lima Shawnee, the state tournament will put on display Bill Bullock of Columbus South, a second-team choice, and honorable mentions Bob Arnen of Cincinnati St. Xavier and Dick Rudgers of Akron Central.

The Associated Press 1965 Class AA all-Ohio team:

First team: Dick Haucke, Cincinnati LaSalle; Roger Markle, Newark; Bill Hann, Cleveland Rhodes; Larry Hisle, Portsmouth; Dave McClellan, Toledo DeVilbiss; Harry Reynolds, Steubenville; Jeff Miller, Lima Shawnee.

Second team: Bill Bullock, Columbus South; Larry Coon, Athens; Ron Young, Canton South; Dick Symons, Toronto; Van Evans, Urbana.

Third team: Jim Byrd, Mt. Vernon; Jim Stocks, Akron North; Gerald McKee, Dayton Dunbar; Frank Taylor, East Liverpool; Tom Heckman, Ottawa Glandorf; Dan Crothers, Jackson.

Honorable mention: Buddy Quarles, Ironton; Bruce Bunch, Chillicothe; Eric Gustavson, Athens; Ed Jacobs, Wellston; Todd Sautter, Waverly; Ron Hetler, Mansfield Senior; Dave Sorenson, Findlay; Ken Novack, Toledo Whitmer; Larry Emch, Rossford; Russ Hagerty, Fremont Ross; Ted Dillon, Mansfield St. Peter; Jeff Claypool, Lexington; Dennis Meadows, Dayton Stebbins; Jim Sutton, Hamilton Garfield; Jim Waldren, Urbana; Mike Ostendorf, Piqua; Bob Arnen, Cincinnati St. Xavier; Mike Pratt, Dayton Meadowdale; Terry Dunham, Dayton Chaminade; John Melroy, Youngstown North; Phil Argento, Cleveland Jacobson, Austintown Fitch; Phil Lee, Canton McKinley; Dave Carroll, Tallmadge; Mark Francis, New Philadelphia; Dale McCauley, Uhrichsville; John Dunlop, Co-shooton; Ed Hare, Cambridge; Dick Rudgers, Akron Central; Bob Whetsel, Marietta; Steve Howell, Columbus Eastmoor; Jerry Francis, Columbus West; George Fannin, Pleasantview; Ed Guice, Linden McKinley; Tom Schlager, Columbus Hartley; Bob Kanuth, Columbus North.

The University of Mississippi will have 27 lettermen back for football next season.

Cincinnati Reds To Carry Sisler's Imprint

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Dick Sisler is on his own this year. Make no mistake about it. The Cincinnati Reds will bear the imprint of Sisler, who was acting manager last year when Fred Hutchinson, stricken with the cancer that was to claim his life, no longer was able to continue.

Sisler and his coaching staff know it is up to them to carry on. They are in the midst of the tough job of making the decisions that could turn a pennant contender into a championship team.

"I think we have the best pitching staff in the league," said Sisler. "But we have got to try to score some more runs." Sisler's most important move has been the shift of Deron Johnson to third base and the use of Gordy Coleman at the first base job he surrendered to Johnson last year.

The Reds are fortunate in having a fine crop of young infielders from the San Diego farm club that won the Pacific Coast League pennant. Foremost among them is Tommy Helms, a 309-hitting shortstop, who is giving Leo Cardenas a scramble for his job.

Gus Gil at second and Tony Perez at first are other San Diego graduates who show great promise for the future. However, Pete Rose appears firmly established at second base, with handy Chico Ruiz to back him up.

"The key to our offense is the hitting of Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson," said Sisler. "Robinson can be a great leader. He is an outstanding ball player. He had a good year last year but he wasn't satisfied. He wants more home runs and runs batted in. Pinson had an off year at .266 but don't forget he drove in 84 runs and hit 23 homers. If we're going to do better, those two are the boys who have to do it."

Tommy Harper, slow to bloom after great promise in the minors, probably will be the left fielder although Sisler also has ex-Cardinal Charlie James, Marty Keough, Mel Queen and Art Shamsky.

John Edwards, an outstanding catcher with a steadily climbing batting average, does all the heavy work, Jim Coker was a big help late last season in the drive that finally ended in a second-place tie with Philadelphia. But pitching is the big plus for the Reds. Sisler has so many potential starters that he can afford to spot some of them against certain teams.

"Jim O'Toole, Jim Maloney, Joey Jay, Joe Nuxhall, John Tsitouris, Gerry Arrigo and Roger Craig all have been starting pitchers," said Sisler. "And Sammy Ellis and Bill McCool want to start. Tsitouris is especially effective against the Cards and Phillies. Nuxhall against the Phils, Maloney and O'Toole against Milwaukee."

Ellis will get his chance to work into the starting rotation. McCool probably will stay in the bullpen for the present with Bill Henry, Craig and Arrigo.

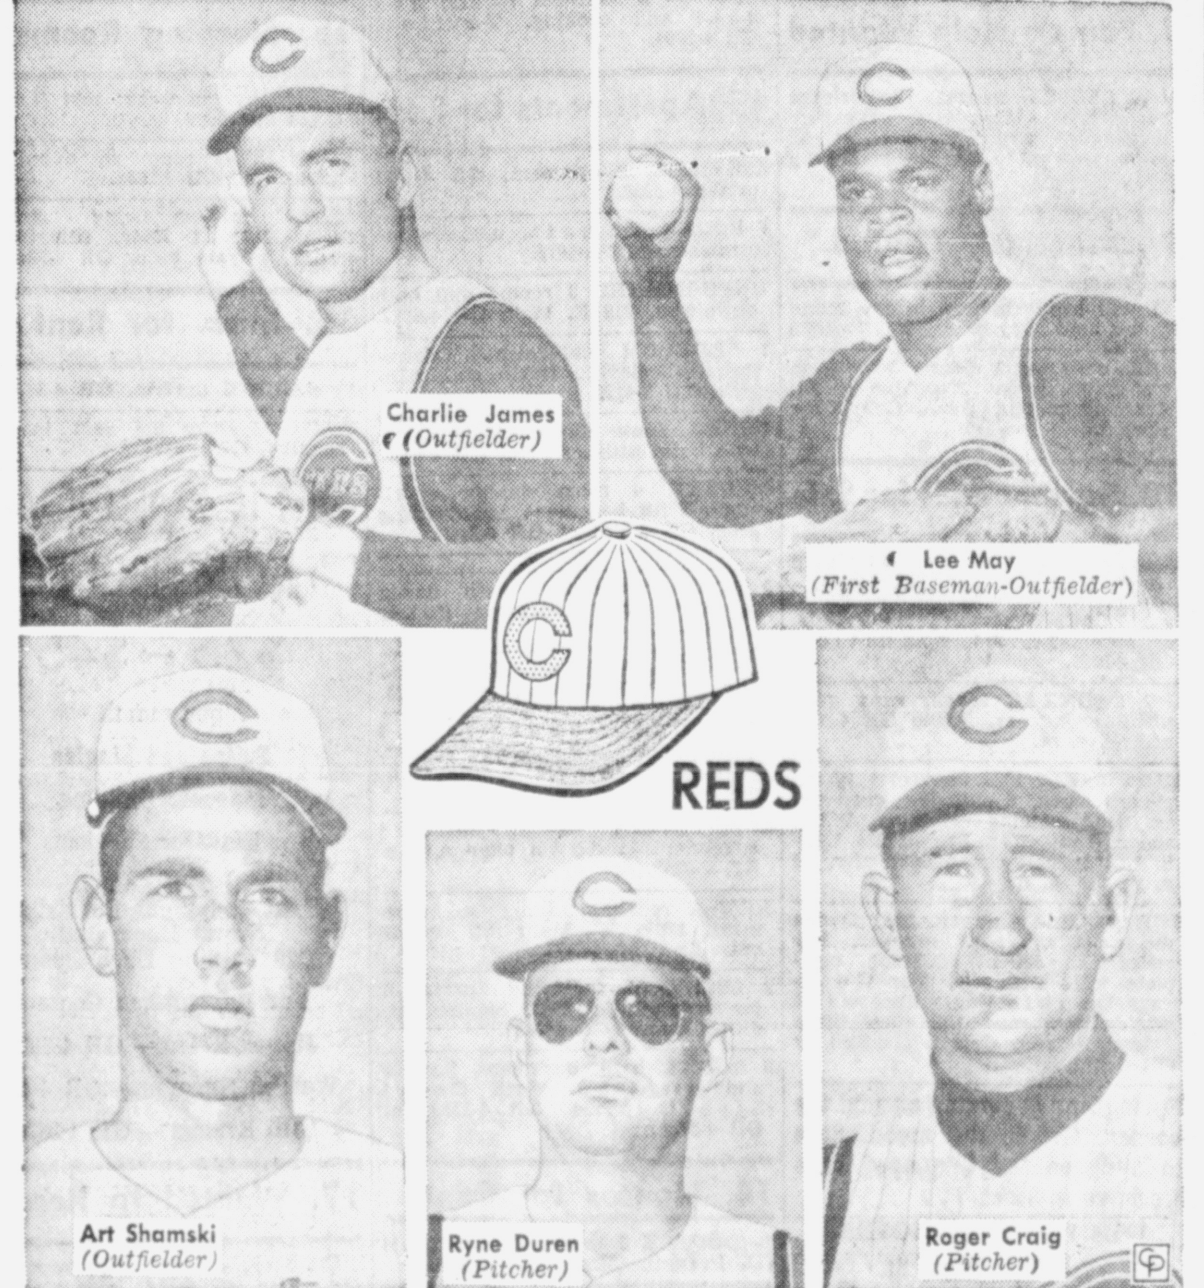

Rookies Seeking Coleman's Job Wield Big Bats

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Both players who are trying to take the first base job away from Gordy Coleman hit home runs as the Cincinnati Reds whipped Detroit, 9-1, in an exhibition baseball game Tuesday.

Young Tony Perez came through in the second inning, after the Tigers had scored their lone run on a walk, an error and a fielder's choice. The 400-foot blast over the left field fence was Perez's second and raised his runs batted in to seven—tops for the club.

Tim Harkness, the former Los Angeles Dodger and New York Met, smashed a 370-foot home run in the seventh inning, making it 7-1 for the Reds, who collected a total of 11 hits off four Detroit pitchers. Meanwhile Johnny Tsitouris gave up no hits at all in five innings and Ryne Duren yielded three singles in four innings.

Many Improvements

Park Board Eyes Opening Of Recreational Facilities

Members of the Circleville Park Board are moving in high gear to make ready for the spring opening of city recreational facilities.

An extensive building and repair program has been under way since last fall. A major portion of the improvements has centered on Ted Lewis Park, the city's largest facility.

A new building to house restroom facilities in the vicinity of the main shelterhouse is expected to be completed for the spring opening. Construction was initiated last fall.

A new shelterhouse, 80 by 30 feet, was erected last year and will be in full operation this year. This gives the Ted Lewis area three such facilities to accommodate the many picnic and outing reservations requested during the summer months.

ADDITIONAL improvements

scheduled for the near future include the erection of three new area lights along the playground area. Another objective is to construct three new tennis courts adjacent to the three already in use.

The surface area of the existing tennis courts will be treated and made ready for the coming season.

Park board members said numerous other projects have been completed in the continuing effort to keep the park in top shape and increase its recreational value. These include the placement of 10 new picnic tables, two new serving tables, the repair of five damaged tables which were repainted and restored to use, repairing of the new and old shelterhouses and the installation of lights in the new shelterhouse.

A new water fountain has been installed and all others repaired. Additional posts have put in place to designate parking areas.

New doors have been installed on the storage area under the bleachers at the main baseball diamond and on the storage room at Shelterhouse No. 1. In the way of new facilities for youngsters, five new tiny - tot swings donated by the Rotary Club have been erected, plus a giant - stride recreational device.

A project to beautify the grounds has included trimming trees, removing ivy from trees and a general sprucing up of the Hargus Creek levee next to the park. Weed killer has been applied to the entire lawn area.

CHAIRMAN of the Park Board is Jack McGuire, 833 Atwater Ave., who currently is serving a three - year term. The two other members of the board are Harold Anderson, 645 Garden Parkway, and Richard B. Davis, 837 Atwater Ave.

Last summer 59 reservations were made for use of the park's three shelterhouses for picnics, reunions and other outdoor functions. Board members said approximately 6,000 people made use of the three structures.

Chairman McGuire has reminded persons and organizations desiring shelterhouse reservations this summer to call GR 4-3340 only. Board members also noted that the park opening this spring will hinge on weather. Normally the opening date is around April 15.

ALL-SCOL — John Maxwell (left) and Chet Iery were unanimous selections to the All-South Central Ohio League basketball team this year. Along with all-loop member John Thomas, they paced the Tigers to the SCCO championship. They were honored last night at the annual Winter Sports Banquet sponsored by the Booster Club.

the season was credited with 50 recoveries. He had a single game shooting percentage high of .640.

The veteran Tiger cager was a unanimous choice to the All-SCO cage team this year. In his junior season he was a second team selection.

Starkey, CHS heavyweight wrestler, was awarded the trophy presented to the "Most Improved" member of the team as well as the most valuable trophy. The MIP award was presented by the Stooze Club.

A senior, this was the first year of competition for Starkey. And in his first year of competition, he placed second in the Central District meet to earn a berth in state competition. His record for the year was 16 wins and four losses.

Starkey, who weighs 191 pounds, was frequently out-weighted in matches, sometimes by as much as 50 pounds.

HIS COACH, David LaBounty, credited Starkey's desire to win plus a willingness to work hard as essentials in his success.

By way of additional honors handed out, Thomas, Chet Iery Jr. and John Maxwell were presented trophies by Jack Martin, president of the CHS Stooze Club. These awards were for being named to the All-League team.

Don Neff, Tiger cage coach, pointed out all three were unanimous All-Star choices. All members of the varsity team were presented small gold basketballs for winning the league championship.

The Stooze Club also gave sportsmanship awards to freshman, reserve and varsity cagers. For the frosh team, Bob Tootle was the winner. John Jenkins received the award for the reserve team and John Maxwell for the varsity.

Seniors on the athletic squads were presented plaques by the Booster Auxiliary. The Booster Club announced it will give similar plaques to senior cheerleaders.

Coach Snyder played high school basketball at Canton McKinley High School and was a member of the Ohio University cage team during his college career.

HE HAS been head coach at his college alma mater for the past 16 years. He has guided the OU Bobcats to four conference championships.

In his talk, the veteran OU mentor pointed out that scholarship is the first reason for going to school, with athletics playing a secondary role.

He stated that the current edition of the CHS cage team was a good example of desire. "If you want something badly enough, you can get it," he explained.

"These boys have been working toward winning the league championship for a long time," Snyder added.

For the returning athletes he offered this advice: "If you want to be champions, stay out of the automobiles and away from the coke shops.

"Wear out those basketballs or footballs this summer because what you are next winter depends on what you do this summer."

LAST night's banquet was one of the largest in attendance for the annual winter event.

Sponsored by the Booster Club in cooperation with the CHS Athletic Assn., much of the preparation was directed by the Booster Auxiliary.

Cab Drivers On Strike In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of taxicab drivers struck in the city today in a massive demonstration for recognition of a new union by cab owners.

The stoppage, sponsored by the Taxi Drivers Organizing Committee, started in many places late Tuesday night — ahead of time. The organizing group originally had said the drivers would work until shortly before the start of a rally at Madison Square Garden at 2 p. m. today.

The impact on the public depends largely on the number of independents — men who drive their own cabs — who keep rolling.

Of the 11,772 licensed cabs, 4,956 are operated by independent owners. The remaining 6,816 are controlled by fleet owners.

The organizers of the stoppage seek recognition by the fleet owners on a single union representing all taxi workers. The organizers say they have cards signed by 25,000 workers asserting their support.

Use of Gas in Viet Nam Studied; London Newspapers Praise Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration was beset today by demands to call off what critics called "gas warfare" against Communist guerrilla forces in Viet Nam.

High administration officials denied, however, that the United States was in fact engaged in gas warfare, and insisted that the employment of nonlethal, nauseous gases against guerrilla-infested villages in some instances in the past had been done to save civilian lives.

Over in London, three newspapers said it was much better than killing.

First comments Tuesday, and the immediate reaction of scores of members of Parliament, were almost everywhere hostile.

Counterarguments came today from the pro-Labor Daily Mirror, the conservative Daily Mail and the conservative Daily Telegraph.

The Mirror, Britain's biggest daily, commented: "Which is the lesser evil?"

The bomb which makes mincemeat of a man — or the gas which knocks him out with distressing but not lasting discomfort for the afternoon? "Death at noon — or sickness?"

"Only an inflexible pacifist would have any difficulty in answering. "But a pacifist might well conclude that if the entire human race could be reduced to tears and vomit for two hours once a month — then — the whole world might begin to realize the folly of its ways."

Daily Mail commentator Bernard Levin called the development "possibly the most important, exciting, hopeful and beneficial development that has ever occurred in the entire history of the human race."

"What the Americans have done," he said, "is to take a public the first halting step toward something that has killed mankind since mankind existed — a war that does not kill."

The protests were even reflected in talks held with administration leaders by British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart.

In response to a question following a speech at the National Press Club, Stewart argued that the use of any weapon in Viet Nam should be weighed against its impact on world public opinion, then said:

"I am in fact asking the United States to display what your Declaration of Independence calls a decent respect for the opinions of mankind."

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara later told a news conference the British had used such gases on Cyprus in 1955.

McNamara made the first attempt to state the administration's case for the use of what he called "riot-control agents" against the Communist Viet Cong. He said the employment of gases such as those used by city police forces all over the world to control civil disturbances was decided upon to save lives.

At the White House, press secretary George E. Reedy told newsmen that President Johnson had not been consulted before gas was used in Viet Nam because the use of such a weapon was considered normally to be within the discretion of area military commanders.

When asked specifically whether Johnson had approved of using the gas, he replied: "It is not the sort of thing that came up for that kind of approval."

Lack of top-level consideration of the problem long ago was in line with what officials said privately — that the White House, State Department and Defense Department were taken by surprise by the excitement and criticism stirred up by the news which broke from Saigon Monday that nonlethal gases had been used in some cases when Viet Cong fighters took refuge among civilians in Vietnamese villages.

Officials also said privately that someone had blundered in the way the disclosure was first made, since reports from Saigon spoke of South Vietnamese forces experimenting with the use of gases called by the United States.

The idea of experimenting with gases, officials here conceded, had contributed to the now widespread impression that the United States was going in for some kind of gas warfare against the Viet Cong.

High administration officials declared, however, that in the view of the U.S. government this was not gas warfare in any sense but was rather the use of a police-type weapon to bring some kind of control over "red" civilian and enemy fighter population without costing the lives of innocent persons.

"As far as we know," McNamara said of the gases, "they have been used only two or three times," most recently on Jan. 27 when, in an engagement in Phu Yen Province the Communist Viet Cong took refuge among noncombatants in a village.

Lambert was recently returned from Lima State Hospital where he underwent psychological examinations.
